

REMARKS

Reconsideration of the rejections set forth in the Office Action mailed December 1, 2006, is respectfully requested. Claims 46-48 have been canceled without prejudice. Claim 49 remains pending in this application.

35 U.S.C. § 112

Claims 46-48 were rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 112, first paragraph, as allegedly failing to comply with the written description requirement. Without conceding the propriety of the rejection, Applicants have canceled claims 46-48 without prejudice. Therefore, the rejection is now moot. Applicants respectfully request withdrawal of the rejection.

35 U.S.C. § 102

Claims 46-48 were rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as being allegedly anticipated by Fisher (USP 6,350,244). Without conceding the propriety of the rejection, Applicants have canceled claims 46-48 without prejudice. Therefore, the rejections are now moot. Applicants respectfully request withdrawal of the rejections.

Claim 49 was rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as allegedly anticipated by Hirsch et al. (USP 5,395,319). Applicants respectfully assert that Hirsch does not teach or suggest “a mass of solid particulate marker material disposed within the inner lumen,” as required by the claims. The Examiner points to element numeral 10 in Figure 1 (see below) as being the “mass of solid particulate material.”

The object being discharged from the needle, however, is described as being “designed as or can contain, for example, a long-term medicinal preparation, a capsule containing radioactive substances, or a metallic contrast element.” (Col. 4, lines 45-47; See also Col. 5, lines 15-17 “such as an identification carrier, a long-term medicinal preparation, contrast metal, or an encapsulated radioactive preparation.”) “Particulate” is defined as “of or relating to minute separate particles.” (www.m-w.com) Hirsch does not teach or suggest any such particulate material. As seen in Fig. 1, carrier 10 is always depicted and described as a single object. Therefore, Applicants respectfully request withdrawal of the rejection and reconsideration of the pending claim.
